DAUX

3 Rabbits

Direction

Starting from a logo unique to the DA (Digital Appliance) UX team, we emphasized "One Team" spirit and belonging.

For 2023, the Year of the Rabbit, the rabbit became the main character — a symbol of leaping forward. The team's three parts (Core UX, Next-Gen UX, Device UX) were each woven into a character, carrying one continuous story across the year.

Moving away from Samsung's restrained brand identity, the system captured the team's work and the lively, playful spirit of its members.

가루날림은 좀 있지만 케이스가 컬러를 바로 확인할 수 있게 직관적이고 블러셔컬러가 맑고 뽀뽀합니다
"A little powder fallout, but the clear case lets you check the shade at a glance — intuitive, and the blush color is bright and soft."

Because blushers' five shades are hard to tell apart, I paired each with a pop contrast color so the products read clearly at a glance — and extended the name "Cheek Up" from a makeup theme into an emotional mood, using positive copy to genuinely cheer the user up. I developed everything from the phrase matched to each shade name to the overall design direction, the product mold, and the outer box, and supervised the full line through production.

Designed to be felt

Conventional appliance design leans heavily on visual information. Inclusive Essentials takes the side of a growing number of people with visual impairments, designing product experiences (washer and robot vacuum for a start) that can be used fully without sight — through touch, structure, high contrast, and sound.
